

BHP Billiton Aids Day – 2007

International Aids Day was commemorated by founding funder BHP Billiton at their Head Office in downtown Johannesburg by holding an art exhibition of Ifa Lethu's alumni from the Mabopane project.

Young artists were invited to display their work in a highly professional environment and to talk to BHP Billiton staff about what they had learned by attending Ifa Lethu workshops.

The staff were able to purchase the art works, thus contributing towards the economic success of these young, talented artists.
